

Key facts and figures about Kumon

- Kumon is the largest supplementary education provider in Ireland.
- Kumon offers maths and English worksheet-based study programmes for children of all ages and abilities.
- The Kumon programmes aim to develop independent, advanced learners, with a positive attitude to study.
- Kumon students are supported to reach an advanced level of study, beyond the international standard for their age.
- There are currently more than 55,000 Kumon students learning at 610 study centres across the UK and Ireland.
- There are over 3.57 million Kumon students studying in more than 60 countries and regions around the world.
- The Kumon Method of Learning was developed in 1954 by Toru Kumon, both a parent and gifted teacher from Japan.
- All Kumon Instructors are skilled and committed individuals with a passion for education and a strong desire to see children develop.
- Kumon fees vary; initial registration and the monthly subject fee are commonly around £35 and £65 per child, respectively.